D. APPLETON & COMPANY'S New Books

NOW READY

PINE KNOT

A Story of Kentucky Life. By WILLIAM E. BARTON, author of "A Hero in Homespun." Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

The story is full of the atmosphere of the quaint mountain life with its wealth of amusing peculiarities, and it also has a historical value, since it pictures conditions attendant upon the anti-slavery movement and the days of the war. The interest of a treasure search runs through the tale, since the author has adroitly utilized a mountain legend of a lost mine. "Pine Knot" is a romance "racy of the soil" in a true sense, a story fresh, strong, and absorbing in its interest throughout.

IN CIRCLING CAMPS

A Romance of the American Civil War. By J. A. ALTSHELER, author of "A Herald of the West," "A Soldier of Manhattan," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"Mr. Altsheler has an enviable reputation. His method is that of Fenimore Cooper. He tells a good, strong, human story for its own sake and not for the sake of showing off his talent as a literary story teller. He gives us some great battle pieces, notably Shiloh and Gettysburg. His admiration of the nobler qualities of 'old friends turned foes' is so hearty and so sincerely dramatic that we love and pity the terrible valor of both."—RICHARD HENRY STODDARD in the N. Y. Mail and Express.

FAMILIAR FISH

Their Habits and Capture. A Practical Book on Fresh-Water Game Fish. By EUGENE McCARTHY. With an introduction by Dr. David Starr Jordan, President of Leland Stanford Junior University, and numerous illustrations. Uniform with "Familiar Trees," "Familiar Flowers," etc., by F. Schuyler Mathews. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"One of the handiest, most practical, most informing books that we know. The author treats his subject with scientific thoroughness but with a light touch that makes his book easy reading. The book should be the companion of all who go a-fishing."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

NEW EDITION

THE RED BADGE OF COURAGE

An Episode of the American Civil War. By STEPHEN CRANE, author of "The Little Regiment," "The Third Violet," "Maggie," etc. New edition, with portrait and biographical sketch. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

THE LAW IN ITS RELATIONS TO PHYSICIANS

By ARTHUR N. TAYLOR, LL.B., of the New York Bar. 12mo, law cloth, pp. 560, $2.00.

NEW EDITION

CONCERNING ISABEL CARNABY

A Novel. By ELLEN THORNEYCROFT FOWLER, author of "The Farringdons," "A Double Thread," etc. With portrait and biographical and critical sketch. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

CHARLES FREDERIC GOSS.

Conflicting Estimates

"THE REDEMPTION OF DAVID CORSON," by Charles Frederic Goss, is a book which will provoke no end of a controversy. It is a purpose novel, and consequently destined to produce an aftermath of critical conflict. One can give some idea of the cause of this inevitable storm from an outline of the story. David Corson was a dreamy and devout young Quaker whose rapid descent to Avernus was brought about by his falling in love with Pepeeta, the beautiful heroine in the novel, whom he supposes to be unmarried. She discovers his passion and flees. After considerable wandering he finds her again. Both are stricken with repentance and remorse and begin life over, chastened, purified and redeemed.

NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS, PASTOR OF PLYMOUTH CHURCH, WRITING IN "THE BOOKMAN," CLASSES IT WITH "DAVID GRIEVE," "TESS OF THE D'URBERVILLES," AND "THE DAMNATION OF THERON WARE," AND FINDS IN IT "A STRONG, HEALTHY, BUOYANT NOTE." HE SAYS, "DAVID CORSON, ENTERS THE SCENE CLOTHED WITH THE FASCINATION THAT ONLY THE STRONG POSSESS. HE DREAMS, HE SINGS, HE SEES VISIONS OF THE FUTURE, HE IS TEMPTED, HE LOVES, HE HESITATES, HE SINS, HE FALLS, HE WAKES WITH A SHOCK OF HORROR, HE CLIMBS SLOWLY UPWARD UPON THE ROUNDS DOWN WHICH HE DESCENDED, HE CONQUERS OUR ADMIRATION AND OUR LOVE."

MAURICE THOMPSON, IN AN EXTENDED DISCUSSION OF THE BOOK IN ANOTHER LITERARY MAGAZINE, DIFFERS RADICALLY FROM "THE BOOKMAN'S" REVIEW. HE POINTS OUT THAT THE LOVE BETWEEN DAVID CORSON AND PEPEETA "IS WORKED UP TO THE HIGHEST PITCH OF PASSION," AND THAT THERE HAS NEVER BEEN A NOVEL IN WHICH IT "IS MORE VEHEMENTLY DESCRIBED OR MORE PERSISTENTLY KEPT BEFORE THE READER. IT DOES NOT FOLLOW," HE ADDS, "THAT BECAUSE GOD HAS MADE POSSIBLE THE REDEMPTION OF A PROFLIGATE, IT IS RIGHT TO DESCRIBE HIM IN A DRAMATIC STORY FOR FIRESIDE READING."

This is pretty strong meat, and it is interesting to observe how opinions differ about it. Here we have two conflicting views from important authorities. That there are many people who warmly champion the book goes without saying, as it is now in its thirty-first thousand. We present these estimates, and leave the decision to each individual taste.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY, Indianapolis, will publish early in the fall "The Life and Writings of Thomas Jefferson," by Professor S. E. Forman of Johns Hopkins University, who has collected from many sources and classified and catalogued with great care the writings and sayings of Jefferson, prefacing all with a brief biographical appreciation which serves as an introduction. In this work the author has had access to all Jefferson's private correspondence and of course to all public documents. They have just ready Captain McIlvaine's "American Fungi," which classifies and describes one thousand varieties.

ISAAC PITMAN & SONS, New York City, have just issued the sixth edition of Guillermo Parody's "Spanish Phonography," specially adapted to the Isaac Pitman system of shorthand, which work has been reprinting for several months. They will also publish early in September, "Pitman's Twentieth Century Business Dictation Book and Legal Forms." This work will contain a varied selection of actual business letters representing some fifty different lines of business, and will undoubtedly fill, at a popular price, a want that has existed for some time for a practical book of dictation selections. "Robinson Crusoe" in the Isaac Pitman phonography will also be issued on the 15th of September.

THE OPEN COURT PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, will publish next month a curious volume by Dr. Paul Carus, entitled "The History of the Devil and the Idea of Evil, from the earliest time to the present day." The author reviews the broad field of the conceptions of evil among the various nations of the earth. Beginning with pre-historic Devil-worship and the adoration of demon gods and monster divinities, he surveys the beliefs of the Summero-Accadians, the Persians, the Jews, the Brahmans, the Buddhists, the early Christians, and the Teutonic nations. He then passes to the demonology of the Middle Ages, the Reformation, and modern times, discussing the Inquisition, witchcraft, and the history of the Devil in verse and fable. The philosophical treatment of the subject is comparatively brief, but the salient points are clearly indicated in every connection. The 311 illustrations in black and tint, will aid considerably the reader's comprehension.

D. APPLETON & CO. have just ready William E. Barton's new novel of life in Kentucky and in the Tennessee mountains, entitled "Pine Knot." Dr. Barton was born in Sublette, Ind., and studied at Berea College, spending much time, during his youth, in travelling through the mountain regions where the scenes of his two novels are laid, making himself intimately acquainted with the life, customs, and legends of the mountaineers. He is a prominent figure in the congregational body, being at present pastor of the Shawmut Avenue Church in Boston. It was here that he wrote "A Hero in Homespun." His new novel deals with conditions among the mountaineers just before and during the early years of the Civil War. They have also just ready in Appleton's Town and Country Library, a story of the west, by Mary E. Stickney, entitled "Brown of Lost River;" and a book on "The Law in Its Relations to Physicians," by Arthur N. Taylor, of the New York Bar, whose object it is to place within the reach of every physician a systematic treatment of those questions of law with which he is most frequently confronted in his practice as a physician. They will publish on the 27th inst. Mr. Hough's romance, "The Girl at the Half-Way House." Mr. Hough's "Story of the Cowboy," it will be remembered, proved very successful here and in England, and was the subject of enthusiastic praise from Governor Roosevelt. They have in preparation "The Boers in War," a history of the Boer War as seen within the Boer lines by Howard C. Hillegas, the author of "Oom Paul and His People," who went to Pretoria early last October and has ever since been with the Burgher forces.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.), D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Anitchkow, Michael. War and labour. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1900. 12+578 p. O. cl., $5.

As the nineteenth century put an end to slavery the twentieth should put an end to war. The author points out that "no matter how wide-spread love of peace be in our days, war will always remain the lot of man while he is most affected by what is vicious in collective action, national and international. . . . Only when all government activity in legal and independent kingdoms is full of the consciousness of the necessity of free and energetic co-operation, universal and social, then only will war disappear." Much labor and great self-sacrifice must bring about the end of war.

Bacheller, Irving Addison. Eben Holden: a tale of the North Country. Bost., Lothrop Pub. Co., [1900.] c. 7+432 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene of the story is St. Lawrence County in Northern New York. A little waif develops under the tutelage of Uncle Eb and a kind farmer of the district into a successful college student, a journalist, and eventually into a hero of the Civil War. He is an interesting character, but the real hero is Eben Holden, noted for his square dealings, quaint sayings, and kindly ways.

Barton, Rev. W: Eleazor. Pine Knot: a story of Kentucky life. N. Y., Appleton, 1900. c. 8+360 p. D. cl., $1.50.

In 1860, Pine Knot, the scene of the story was assumed to be exactly on the boundary line of Kentucky and Tennessee. To the discomfiture of the "moonlight fraternity," however, a later survey proved that the town was in Kentucky. The present novel is founded on local incidents supposed to have happened just before the Civil War. It tells the love story of a federal soldier and a confederate girl. This work is the outcome of lectures delivered during several years in St. John's Ecclesiastical Seminary, Boston, and is chiefly intended as a text-book for similar institutions. As such it deals with the questions which it most behooves theological students to be acquainted with before they enter on the scientific interpretation of the sacred text, questions which fall under the three general heads of the Canon, Text, and Versions, and Hermeneutics of the Holy Scriptures. A concise treatment of the history, proofs, nature, and extent of the inspiration of the Bible, will be found in an appendix.

Cronenstein is a modern residence built on an ancient site on the banks of the Rhine. The heiress, Florestine von Cronenstein, was chiefly notable for her devotion to the church and her efforts to reclaim the soul of a former playmate. The story of her interesting life and pathetic death is told evidently for a moral purpose.

Herrick, Rob. The web of life. N. Y., Macmillan, 1900. c. 5+356 p. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene of the novel is laid chiefly in Chicago, at the time of the Pullman strike. The characters are a young hospital doctor and an unhappy wife with a husband who is a confirmed drunkard. The three meet in the casualty ward of a public hospital, where the husband has been carried with two bullets in his head, the result of a saloon row. The doctor operates upon the man who lives, but with an impaired mind. The fates of these three people are bound together, in a sad and tragical narrative.

James, Edmund Janes. The government of a typical Prussian city—Halle a|S. Phil., Amer. Acad. of Political and Social Science, [1900.] 42 p. (Publications of the society, no. 274.) pap., 35 c.

Halle-on-the-Saale is mentioned as a city in 1024, and was accepted in the Hanseatic League as early as 1281. Of late it has become a great railroad and industrial centre. During the past fifty years its population has increased from 30,000 to 155,000. This is an examination of its peculiar scheme of government which, adopted for a small city belonging essentially to the last century, has been found satisfactory for a modern city of the highest type.

The author says "my purpose is to prove to the world, from a biblical as well as from a scientific standpoint, that spiritual facts can be demonstrated logically and scientifically and that the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace, has appeared in the human form as Beha 'U'llah and established His kingdom upon earth." Beha 'U'llah, "the glory of God," was the head of the vast reform party of Persian Moslems who accept the New Testament as the word of God, and Christ as the deliverer of men. The author was born in Syria, but is now a citizen of the United States.

The author has gathered together the teachings of nature, science, and revelation in respect to man as he is in this world, and what is to become of him when he passes beyond its bounds. Though written from a Christian standpoint, the work presents, as fairly as possible, the views of the Hindus, Parsees, and Mohammedans, and gives the claims of Theosophists and Spiritualists respectful attention. Various speculative theories, especially the theory of evolution, have also been carefully considered.

A study of the political, social, and industrial environments of the Philippine Islands, with a careful investigation of American policy in governing and holding the Islands, also of the individual action of General Otis. The author says "before we sailed for Manila I had no intention of criticising either American policy or American discipline . . . my sympathies were entirely American as they are to-day." The voyage was made in the United States dispatch boat Zafiro. The work is virtually an appeal to the citizens of the United States and an effort to espouse the cause of the Filipinos whom the author believes to be a misrepresented people.

Vynne, Harold R: The woman that's good: a story of the undoing of a dreamer. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., [1900.] c. 473 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A romance of troubled married life in which Eustace Gaunt is the hero, and his wife Elaine figures as "The woman that's good." Believing that he no longer loves Elaine, and that he is in love with another woman, Eustace meets his new divinity clandestinely. Hearing of these stolen meetings, the injured wife institutes divorce proceedings. The fickle husband is brought to a sense of his folly and the moral of the story is made evident.

Wardner, Ja. F. Jim Wardner, of Wardner, Idaho. By himself. N. Y., Anglo-American Pub. Co., 1900. c. 154 p. il. pl. por. 12°, cl., $1.25.

"Jim Wardner," of Wardner, Idaho, called by the Wardner News, Idaho, "a pioneer of the Hills," is according to his own account a descendant of the Wardners for whom the towns Wardner in Idaho and Wardner in British Columbia were named. His experiences as here given are humorous. Besides giving incidents of personal history, he discusses current events and political episodes from his point of view.

Waugh, Arthur. Robert Browning. Bost., Small, Maynard & Co., 1900. c. 14+155 p. T. (Westminster biographies, no. 1.) cl., 75 c.

A brief biography aiming to give a faithful picture of the personal character and social surroundings of Browning; also to indicate his place in the literary movement of his times. "The primary object is," says the author, "to lead the reader to the poems themselves."

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 21, 1900.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE NET SYSTEM IN ENGLAND.

THE ENGLISH PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION, in addition to its creditable collective exhibit at the Paris Exposition, sets example to the publishing trade in this country in another and more important matter. It has actually achieved what the American book trade has been vainly endeavoring since 1876 to accomplish—the rehabilitation of the retail book trade by an improvement in the method of discounts. Since the organization of the American Book Trade Association at Put-In Bay and Niagara Falls, many half-hearted endeavors have been made in this direction, but usually with such lack of comprehensiveness or of foresight as made each movement in turn ineffective. The demoralization in the English book trade had been perhaps even more general than in the American, for the "thrippence in the shilling" had not even to be asked for, but was given without the asking.

Until within a few years English publishers, aside from incidental personal acquaintance, had very little to do with each other, and co-operative action was practically unknown. A few years have changed all that, and the English Publishers' Association is now a model of effective business co-operation. This organization and its results owe much to the effective work on the part of a few men, as Mr. Murray, Mr. Longman, Mr. R. B. Marston, Mr. Frederick Macmillan, and Mr. Heinemann. To Mr. Frederick Macmillan in especial, as the pioneer and apostle of this new movement, the English trade is especially indebted. The ball indeed was set rolling by him in 1890 in the letter which he printed in the London Bookseller, on March 6th of that year, carefully presenting the facts and the proposed remedy, a communication which called out the vigorous animadversion at the time of Mr. G. W. Smalley. The progress of events and the success of the movement have abundantly justified Mr. Macmillan's position, and those who are interested in a similar reform in America should read with care his letter reprinted in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY of April 6, 1890.

English books are now published either as net books, or as books to be sold in the old way. On net books 1-6 discount is allowed, and it is the agreement throughout the jobbing and retail trade that they shall be sold only at that price. Most net books carry a frank statement to that effect on the paper cover. If a bookseller fails to maintain the retail price on a net book, he is debarred from further purchase of net books, but his relations are not changed to ordinary books. This has proved a very useful feature in the transition from the old system to the new. The new method meets with the hearty approval of the English trade, and there is only one known exception to it in the case of a local dealer in London who is still endeavoring to retail net books below publishing price, allowing a discount of 10 per cent. It is improbable that he will continue to be able to obtain books.

Net books now include some notably cheap books and a large range of other classes of books. The Dent books, in particular, are excellent examples of the first class, and Mr. Dent's enterprises have furnished one of the most important bridges by which it has been possible to cross from one system to another. These most attractive little volumes have given the public so much more than they formerly received for their money that buyers have been gladly willing to pay higher prices for them. But while these tasteful little books have afforded one of the best popular arguments for the new system, great progress has been made in the other direction. The Macmillan house, which has grown to one of the most important positions of leadership in the English trade, has put books of very wide range, both as to character and price, on the net basis, and no less than 836 of its publications were at last accounts on the net list.

If the American trade are to follow successfully the example of their English brethren the same large foresight will be necessary in working out plans. The public must in the first place be thought of, and books on the net basis must be put at such a price that the public will see that they are getting more, rather than less, for their money, than before. That is, the net price should be at least as low as the present ruling price, discount off. This change in the retail price is rendered more necessary by the very large percentage now paid certain popular authors, based as it is on the nominal retail, and not on the actual selling price of the book. The department stores, also, as well as the retail book stores proper, are to be considered; but the fact that on many lines of goods they have been perfectly willing to maintain a real net price is evidence that they would not be unwilling to co-operate in a proper movement as to books. The time is ripe for a movement in line with the English reform, and if the reform is wisely handled it should at last be successful.

SUMMER is not over before fall work must commence, and we have already in preparation our Fall Announcement Number. It has been our desire in revising our bibliographic system to make every possible improvement as well in the Announcement List as in other bibliographic features. The one-alphabet list of announcements has been received by the trade with general commendation; but there seems question whether it is worth while to duplicate these entries in the classified list which was also made a feature of our Spring Announcement Number. Unless, therefore, we find that this classified list has been of distinct value to the retail trade—in which case we shall hope to have word at once from retail booksellers to that effect—we propose not to repeat in the Fall Announcement Number the classified portion of the list.

THE APPLETON REORGANIZATION PLAN DECLARED EFFECTIVE.

THE Reorganization Committee of D. Appleton & Co., James G. Cannon, chairman, announces that a large majority of the creditors having deposited their claims with the Metropolitan Trust Company, the plan of reorganization is declared effective. Claims not yet deposited will be accepted up to and including August 14, after which date they will only be received upon such terms as may be fixed by the committee.

HENRY HOLT & CO.'S TEXT-BOOKS RESTORED.

THE text-books of Henry Holt & Co., which were banished from the New York schools when John J. Little was President of the Board of Education, have been restored to favor since Mr. Little resigned. The exclusion in the first instance was understood to have been the result of an article in the Educational Review, which is published by Henry Holt & Co. and edited by Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, in which Mr. Little considered himself referred to as "that fine old educational mastodon." Henry Holt, Charles Holt, and Professor Butler were indicted for criminal libel, but the indictments were dismissed.

Miles M. O'Brien, the present President of the Board of Education, according to an Associated Press despatch is reported to have said that the use of the Holt text-books was resumed in the ordinary routine of business. "The firm submitted a number of their books, and they were referred to various superintendents and principals for examination. Such as were approved were accepted; that is all there is to it. I have nothing to say about any controversy which Mr. Little may or may not have had with the Holts. Mr. Little is a very honorable, high-minded man, as all who are acquainted with him know."

Mr. Henry Holt in a communication to the New York Times dated July 11, in which he refers to "some very natural inaccuracies" in its note regarding the relations of his firm to the Little libel suit, says: "I want to call attention to the anachronism and injustice of the present law of libel.

"You say: 'Henry Holt & Co., in their publication, The Educational Review, edited by Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, had referred to ex-President Little of the School Board as that "fine old educational mastodon," and named him and several other members of the board as held together 'by the cohesive power of public plunder.'

"Now, the facts are that nobody was so named, and so far from our having 'referred to' Mr. Little, no member of the firm of Henry Holt & Co. even knew of the existence of the article in question before Mr. Little called our attention to it some time after it was printed.

"This illustrates the absurdity and unjust anachronism of the present law of libel. The law arose probably before the invention of printing, and certainly before publishers ceased to do their printing with their own hands, and long before they ceased to do their own proof-reading. Consequently, when the law was evolved, a publisher could fairly be presumed to know what he was publishing. Now the presumption is the other way; it is impossible for a considerable publisher to know a tithe of what he publishes, and certainly the burden of proof should be on any one assuming a publisher to be even conscious of a libel published by him. Contrast this entirely reasonable proposition with Mr. Gardiner's securing an indictment even without giving us an opportunity to prove an innocence which common sense now presumes, and which the law presumes, so far as I know, regarding every other crime.

"In the face of so important a public matter as this, I feel like apologizing for alluding further to merely personal points in your article, but perhaps one justifies. You say: 'Mr. Little wrote a letter of expostulation to the firm, which did not result in a retraction.' This, too, is inaccurate. We wrote him not only disclaiming all previous knowledge of the article, but also saying: 'We take pleasure in adding that we never believed the cohesive power of public plunder to be among your motives, and we do not think that the article in The Review necessarily carries the implication that its writer did.' The first sentence of this disclaimer he quoted in his speech persuading the Board of Education to reject our books, saying: 'So far as I am individually concerned, this charge has been withdrawn.'

"Yet in spite of these disclaimers, one of which he later quoted as sufficient, the present antiquated law of libel and the present methods of administering justice in New York enabled Mr. Little (whether it justified him or not) to have us associated with the editor in the indictment, and the indictment was procured not only despite these disclaimers, but despite the fact that several days before Mr. Little's appearance before the Grand Jury, we sent him the proof of an editorial paragraph that was to appear in the forthcoming Educational Review, which stated: 'Mr. Little's integrity has never been questioned to our knowledge—certainly not by us.' This, we believe, was before the editor knew of the Judge's opinion in Mr. Little's receivership case.

"In the recent proceedings regarding District Attorney Gardiner, he denied ever having seen this disclaimer, and Mr. Little, when under oath to tell the Grand Jury 'the whole truth' made no allusion to it. He has publicly said, or has been quoted as saying, (I forget which,) that he considered the disclaimer as aggravating the original offense, but that was a matter of his individual opinion, and the Grand Jury certainly had a right to form theirs. Whatever was Mr. Little's opinion, he thought this disclaimer worth quoting in addition to ours in the speech above alluded to, as additional evidence that the charge had 'been withdrawn.'"

SALE OF HARPER & BROTHERS' PLANT.

FORMAL notice has been issued by Referee Hamilton Odell that the foreclosure sale of the property of Harper & Brothers will be held at 111 Broadway, New York, on August 9. The property includes the real estate belonging to the firm on Franklin Square and Cliff Street, as well as the machinery, stock, copyrights, and good will. Inasmuch as the order of the sale provides that the entire property shall be sold as one parcel, the transaction may be considered simply as the necessary formal step to enable the reorganization committee to take legal possession of the business and to get it out of the receiver's hands.

According to the Evening Post, a representative of the house, who in the absence of Colonel Harvey, spoke for the firm, is reported to have said that the firm has "already made enough money in the past six months to make the future of the company sure. Harper's Weekly has within thirty days increased its sales by 26,000 copies. The other periodicals are doing well. The sales of books for the past six months have increased over 20 per cent. A large lot of new machinery has been put in, and the establishment is being electrically equipped. Contracts for books have been made with Kipling, Hall Caine, Mary E. Wilkins, Booth Tarkington, Winston Churchill, Henry James, I. Zangwill, Sarah Grand, Mrs. Humphry Ward, and, indeed, with nearly every author of prominence at home and abroad. Everything is provided for in the sale except a few small debts, amounting, in the aggregate, to a few thousand dollars, which can be raised in a few minutes. The cash is all ready for the new enterprise as soon as the sale is perfected, and the company is ready to take possession."

THE CHICAGO BOOK FAIR.

THE Palmer House, Chicago, from the 5th to the 15th inst., was a busy centre for book men. The representatives of nearly forty large publishing houses made a fine display of forthcoming books, and the attendance was large enough to justify the verdict that the Book Fair, as this annual gathering of the publishing trade has by common consent come to be termed, was a success.

The following is a list of the houses represented and the names of the travellers who were present. Several other houses also expected to be represented but failed to report at the time of our going to press:

A SYNDICATE NOVEL.

WILL CUMBACK, President of the Western Association of Writers, according to the Indianapolis Press, has arranged for an original novel to be written by the members of the Western Association of Writers. "The plot of the story already has been made by John Uri Lloyd, of Cincinnati, who will also write the first chapter. Mr. Lloyd is the author of 'Etidorhpa' and 'Stringtown on the Pike,' and other stories. W. H. Venable, LL.D., well-known author and writer, will write the second chapter, and Coates Kinny, a poet of the West, will write the third chapter. This will be Ohio's contribution to the romance. Mr. Cumback will write the fourth chapter, ex-Judge Willard Cox, of Indianapolis, who wrote "The Legionaires," will write the fifth chapter, and Mark L. De Motte, professor of law at the Normal College, at Valparaiso, will add a chapter; this probably will conclude the story.

"The effort will be made to make the story up to the best of modern romance. It will first be given to the public at Winona by each one reading the chapter he has written, in regular consecutive order. It will take one evening to present this story. The chapters as they are written will be passed to the next writer until the work is done. It will be completed by the 1st of January next."

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE VIRGINIA BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE tenth annual meeting of the Virginia Booksellers' Association was held at Virginia Beach, June 21 and 22, T. S. Beckwith, the president of the Association, in the chair. There were present representatives of the following firms: J. V. Alfriend & Co., Vickery & Co. R. G. Meyer, P. H. Brouelett, Anderson & Thompson, and Boatwright Brothers Company. A number of members were unavoidably absent. After some preliminary business the meeting was called to order by Mr. Beckwith who spoke as follows:

Ten years ago, in August, 1890, our friends and colleagues in Richmond issued the following circular:

RICHMOND, VA., August 21, 1890.

Deeming it advisable, and to the interest of every bookseller in Virginia, that there should be an understanding between them as to discounts and time of credit on text books, we ask that you send a representative with power to act for your house, to meet us at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, in this city, Thursday, August 28, at six P. M., to decide on this and any other matter that may be brought before the meeting.

Please notify H. M. Starke & Co., promptly if you will attend.

J. W. RANDOLPH & ENGLISH,
H. M. STARKE & CO.,
HUNTER & CO.,
WEST, JOHNSTON & CO.

If you cannot be present please write your position as to discounts to be allowed dealers and schools.

Recognizing the pressing need of establishing and maintaining a uniform rate of discount, and of promoting a closer and more fraternal relationship between the members of the booktrade the following call was addressed to the booksellers of Virginia:

VIRGINIA BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

T. S. BECKWITH, of Petersburg, President.
H. M. STARK, of Richmond, Secretary and Treasurer,

RICHMOND, VA., August 29, 1890.

Thursday, August 28, the above association was formed ond officers elected to hold office until their successors are elected at an annual meeting to be held at such time and place during the summer of 1891 as the above officers and Executive Committee may select.

The objects of the association are to secure a uniform rate of discounts to be given to retail dealers by those jobbing text books, and promote a closer and fraternal feeling between the booksellers of Virginia. The following firms were represented: T. S. Beckwith & Co., of Petersburg; Vickery & Co. and Hume & Bilisoly, of Norfolk; R. G. Hume & Bro. and R. G. Crump, of Portsmouth; W. F. Farrar, of Farmville; J. W. Randolph & English, West, Johnston & Co., Hunter & Co., A. Hartung, Samuel Crane, and H. M. Starke & Co., of Richmond.

The following rate of discounts was adopted to take effect as soon as the secretary notifies the members that he has secured the signatures of ALL jobbing booksellers, whose names were reported, the same to be binding until changed at annual meeting or by instruction of Executive Committee.

Fifteen per cent. on Public School State list with two per cent. for cash ten days; except when a party purchase $100 net, when the discount will be 16⅔, this amount may be made up of other stock, including stationery, the discount to hold for public school books in the order, where a member comes in competition with dealers from other states he will be allowed to meet such competition.

Please notify the secretary, H. M. Starke, 909 Main Street, Richmond, Virginia, by return mail whether your house will abide by the above rate, and if it wishes to become a member of the association, the dues to be one dollar for first year.

Yours, etc.,
T. S. BECKWITH, President, Petersburg, Va.
H. M. STARKE, Sec'y and Treas., Richmond, Va.

On July 18 the Association held its first annual meeting at the rooms of the Merchants' Association in Norfolk, the following firms being represented: J. P. Bell Company, of Lynchburg; Bell, Dance & Co. and Thomas H. Averett, of Danville; T. S. Beckwith & Co., of Petersburg; W. L. Olivier, of Staunton; H. M. Starke & Co., Hunter & Co., and West, Johnston & Co., of Richmond; Hume & Brother and R. G. Crump, of Portsmouth; and Vickery & Co. and Hume & Bilisoly, of Norfolk.

Of the firms represented in the call for the meeting at which our Association officially came into life, four only remain. The unfortunate conditions that prevail in the book trade, and which our friends, in their unselfish devotion to the profession they had chosen, so earnestly endeavored to correct, discouraged many of the younger men, and forced them to seek more remunerative employment, thus depriving the trade and this association of the services and co-operation and advice of these energetic and able workers. H. M. Starke, the father of the Virginia Booksellers' Association, while now working in another field, is in heart still with us—would that he could always be with us in person. Colonel Bidgood, the representative of the highest ideal of a bookseller, forced to change his calling, still loves us and deeply regrets that he could not remain with us. West, dear old "Monty" West, who has severed his connection with the book business, we shall ever miss his sincere fellowship. W. L. Bilisoly, our efficient second secretary and treasurer, a good bookseller and a true friend, has left the ranks of the book trade, so has Crump. Hume, our first vice-president, has been called home. Yet, while our loss in membership has been considerable, we are undismayed and shall continue the work with all our strength. If we earnestly try we shall succeed in materially helping each other to that success to which our faithful work entitles us.

During the past ten years we have met once a twelvemonth, have considered our troubles, enjoyed our blessings, helped and encouraged each other, and then parted with lighter hearts —being drawn together by the desire to promote good fellowship.

I will not take up your time in dwelling on the results of our work. That much good has been accomplished you know; that much more can be accomplished I need not point out. During the year past your Executive Committee has had no meeting, as nothing occurred to call for their action. Our very efficient secretary, Mr. J. O. Boatwright, has been able to attend to all the business of the Association without our assistance.

I hope each member will try to interest others in our work. I think the time has come when we may take courage—the near future gives promise of brighter prospects. We have important work ahead to prepare for the next State adoption of school books.

Many matters pertaining to the book trade were discussed and plans were outlined to push the interest of each member during the ensuing year. Having in view the adoption of text books in Virginia in 1902, the Executive Committee was instructed to meet in January next to decide on a plan of campaign for the Association.

The old board of officers was re-elected to serve another year, as follows: T. S. Beckwith, president; J. J. Samuels, vice-president; J. O. Boatwright, secretary and treasurer.

SALE OF "BEACH ON TRUSTS AND TRUSTEES" ENJOINED.

The Circuit Court of the U. S. District of Missouri, on July 8, granted a perpetual injunction on the publication, by the Central Law Book Company, of "Beach on Trusts and Trustees," it being an infringement of the copyright of "Perry on Trusts and Trustees," published by Little, Brown & Co.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Dr. John Ashhurst, Jr., one of the best-known surgeons in the United States, died at Philadelphia July 7. He was born in Philadelphia, August 23, 1839. He served throughout the Civil War as an assistant surgeon and later became connected with various hospitals in Philadelphia. In 1877 Dr. Ashhurst became Professor of Clinical Surgery in the University of Pennsylvania, and in 1888 he became John Rhea Barton Professor of Surgery. His best known publications are "Injuries of the Spine," and "Principles and Practice of Surgery." He edited Erichsen's "Science and Art of Surgery," the "International Encyclopædia of Surgery," and Lippincott's "New Medical Dictionary." His pamphlet contributions were numerous, and secured for him a national reputation.

Henry Barnard, the well-known educator, died at his home in Hartford, Conn., July 5. Dr. Barnard was born in Hartford, January 24, 1811. In 1826 he entered Yale. After he was graduated he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1835. But he did not practice. He went abroad for two years, making a tour of England, Scotland, France, and Switzerland on foot, studying the social, political, and municipal conditions of the people. From 1837 to 1840 he sat in the Connecticut Legislature, where he became a conspicuous advocate of reforms in prisons, asylums, and common schools. He effected a reorganization of the public school system of his own and other states, introducing school-houses of improved construction, high schools, teachers' institutes, normal academies, and new methods of instruction. From 1838 to 1842 he was Secretary of the Board of School Commissioners in Connecticut; from 1843 to 1849 School Commissioner of Rhode Island; from 1850 to 1854 Superintendent of the Connecticut State Schools; from 1857 to 1859 President of the University of Wisconsin; in 1865 and 1866 President of St. John's College, in Annapolis, and from 1867 to 1870 United States Commissioner of Education. In 1855 Dr. Barnard began the publication of The American Educational Journal. In 1886 he announced a collected edition of his works under the title "The American Library of Schools and Education," in fifty-two volumes, comprising over 800 individual treatises, each of which was also published separately.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

Hall Caine's forthcoming story is not to be called "The Roman," but "The Eternal City." It will be published in England in The Lady's Magazine, a new periodical which C. A. Pearson will bring out in January next, and in this country in The New Magazine to be published in the fall by R. H. Russell.

Winston Spencer Churchill, whose recent book on the Boer war has attracted considerable favorable notice, has made arrangements with Major Pond to deliver a series of lectures in this country next winter. Mr. Churchill's mother, Lady Randolph Churchill, the editor of The Anglo-Saxon Review, was a daughter of Leonard Jerome of New York, so that he is not altogether a stranger in America.

THE people of Warsaw, according to the London Academy, have decided to signalize Henryk Sienkiewicz's jubilee by a gift to him of landed property. A committee has been formed to collect subscriptions, and has already succeeded in raising a large sum, with which it is proposed to purchase an estate for the author in the province. The celebration of his jubilee and the presentation of the estate are to take place next November.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

PER LAMM, (Librairie Nilsson,) Paris, has just issued Part 1, A-Boitel, of D. Jordell's "Catalogue général de la librairie française, 1891-1899."

PROFESSOR BLAKE of the Territorial University, Tucson, Arizona, and geologist of the Territory, is engaged upon a complete bibliography of the Territory, which promises to be of special value in the matter of titles relating to the Indian tribes, cliff-dwellers, and Pueblos as well as in many evidences of a prehistoric life.

THE CAXTON CLUB of Chicago has in preparation an illustrated and descriptive catalogue of the etchings of James McNeill Whistler. This will be the first illustrated catalogue of Whistler's etchings ever issued and will illustrate and describe one hundred more etchings than are given by Wedmore in the last edition of his catalogue.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Athenaeum for July 7 reviews the literature of the continent of Europe from July, 1899, to July, 1900.

WILLIAMS & NORGATE, Edinburgh, have just published the first number of the Book of Book Plates, a new quarterly devoted to art in book plates, edited by J. W. Simpson.

THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE has adopted as its official organ Science, the weekly periodical edited by Professor J. McKeen Cattell of Columbia University and published by the Macmillan Company.

The Literary Collector is the title of a new monthly journal to be devoted to the interests of collectors of books, autographs, objets d'art, etc. It will be published by George D. Smith, 4 East 42d Street, New York, and the first number is promised for October 1.

Book Notes, published by the Siegel-Cooper Company, New York, will change its name with the September issue to The Book World. The Rev. Madison C. Peters will hereafter edit the periodical, and particular space will be devoted to reviews of religious books, treated from a non-sectarian and popular point of view.

Harper's Bazar has made arrangements to print a series of six stories by Stephen Crane which will sketch the "girl idea" as the "Whilomville Stories" treat the "boy idea." Mr. Crane completed two of the stories just before his death. The remaining four will be completed by Mrs. Crane, with whom her husband talked over the way in which he would have them appear. The series will be entitled "The Cora Stories," and will be illustrated by Peter Newell.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BARRE, VT.—The Barre Book Store has been moved into larger and more accessible quarters in the Gordon block.

BERLIN, N. H.—J. L. Colby has given up his drug business and has formed a partnership with his brother, George H. Colby, in the book and stationery business.

BOSTON, MASS.—J. M. Bowles has made an assignment.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The Central School Supply House has sold out the Science Department part of their business to the Central Scientific Company.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Farquhar & Albrecht is a new firm of wholesale dealers in school and college text-books. J. D. Farquhar has had upwards of ten years' experience in the business and G. A. Albrecht was connected with the C. M. Barnes Co. for about thirteen years, being its vice-president at the time he severed his connection with the firm. Farquhar & Albrecht have recently moved into larger quarters in the Studebaker Building, at 378 Wabash Avenue.

DEXTER, ME.—A. A. Springall has hired a store opposite the post-office, and will open a book and stationery store there as soon as the place can be suitably fixed over for the change of business.

EMPORIA, KAN.—Jones, Eckdall & Haver, booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. Eckdall & Haver succeed the old firm.

GENEVA, O.—Elmo Martin has bought J. S. Bollard's book and stationery store. Mr. Bollard has been in business here for the past nineteen years and is obliged to take a rest for his health.

LAWRENCE, KAN.—Clarence Hall has sold out his interest in the Rowlands & Hall Book and Stationery Company.

MADISON, WIS.—The firm of Pickarts & Nicodemus, composed of L. J. Pickarts and R. C. Nicodemus, which has been doing business at No. 15 East Main Street, has been dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued by Mr. Pickarts and McClellan Dodge at the place of business of the old firm, under the name of L. J. Pickarts & Company, Mr. Nicodemus retiring from the firm and being no longer connected therewith. All accounts outstanding against the firm of Pickarts & Nicodemus are to be presented when due to L. J. Pickarts & Company for payment.

MT. VERNON, O.—R. I. Arnold & Co. have moved their book store back into their old quarters, which they vacated some time since that the building might be remodeled.

NEWTOWN, IA.—Chas & Lister, booksellers, have sold out.

NEW YORK CITY.—Justice Bischoff of the Supreme Court has appointed Peter Macfarlane temporary receiver of the Church Publishing Co., Ltd., of 281 Fourth Avenue, on the application of Directors Peter Macfarlane, Daniel F. Warren, and John S. Coman. The company was incorporated in 1891, with a capital stock of $25,000, to publish Sunday-school lessons and church literature. The liabilities are $2895 and no assets, as all the property of the company was sold to a judgment creditor two years ago.

NEW YORK CITY.—Charles P. Everitt and John Francis, of the firm of Charles P. Everitt & Co., have taken into partnership Niel Morrow Ladd, and changed the firm name to Everitt, Francis & Co. To accommodate their growing business they have taken a larger store at 116 East Twenty-third Street, one block east of their former quarters. They make a fine showing of old and new books in a very attractive store.

NEW YORK CITY.—Philip A. Hagel has bought A. J. Cooley's stationery, book and novelties business at Thirty-first Street and Eighth Avenue.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Andrew Arthur, dealer in old and rare books, has removed from 1305 N. Front Street to 808 Spring Garden Street.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—William M. Bains, until recently manager of the book department of Strawbridge & Clothier, has opened an office at 1019-1021 Market Street, (with the Leeds & Biddle Company, printers and publishers,) where he will receive orders for books, bookbinding, and printing.

SACRAMENTO, CAL.—W. F. Purnell, bookseller, has removed from 610 J Street to his new building at 716 K Street.

SIOUX FALLS, SO. DAK.—W. D. Simons, bookseller, suffered total loss of his stock by fire June 30. The value of stock and fixtures was estimated at $9000. Undaunted by this disaster, Mr. Simons bought out the stock of P. C. Olmstead who started in the book business here about eight months ago.

TOLEDO, O.—Frank Frey's book store and news depot, at 313 Monroe Street, was burned out July 5.

WATERTOWN, N. Y.—Jones & Halladay, booksellers, have dissolved partnership, W. D. Jones retiring. The business will be continued by W. H. Halladay under his own name.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MOSES KING, 346 Broadway, New York, has issued, in portfolio form, 150 "Views of Paris."

BRENTANO'S propose publishing two of Bernard Shaw's earlier love stories—"The Irrational Knot" and "Love Among the Artists."

HENRY HOLT & CO. will publish this month a history of France in French, for use in schools, by Professor O. B. Super, based on Ducoudray and Feillet's "Recits d'Histoire de France."

GEORGE BARRIE & SON, Philadelphia, have in preparation a work on the "Exposition Universelle de 1900," which will extend to ten quarto volumes, containing in aall about 600 intaglio engravings.

BOOKSELLERS in a number of large towns are signing agreements to close their stores early this summer. It is common to keep them open until 9 o'clock, or later; but it has always been a question whether there was any profit in doing so.

THE CENTURY CO. announces new editions of "Deacon Bradbury," and of "China: The Long-Lived Empire." Of the former work, the new edition is the fifth. They have in preparation a volume for young people on explorations by Tudor Jenks.

WE are requested by Lentilhon & Co. to correct the statement that they acquired the plates of all the works of Mrs. Elizabeth Prentiss formerly published bv A. D. F. Randolph & Co. They purchased the plates of the "Little Susy" books only, of which they are preparing new editions.

BRADLEE WHIDDEN, 18 Arch Street, Boston, announces that after August the price of Denton's magnificent work on "Moths and Butterflies of the United States," will be raised to $7.50 net a section. The eight sections, of which the entire work is made up, will be completed before the end of this year.

C. P. FARRELL, 117 East Twenty-first Street, New York, announces that the Dresden edition of the complete works of Robert G. Ingersoll will be ready September 10. The first edition has already been exhausted and the price has been advanced to $25 for the twelve volumes bound in cloth.

THE IROQUOIS PRESS, Fayetteville, N. Y., of which Ellis Woodsworth is Chief Sachem, has in preparation "A Sheaf of Talking Leaves, commemorative of the advent of Hi-a-wat-ha, the Godly Seer." The volume will be printed on Van Gelder paper, with illuminated initials, and original drawings by Miss H. E. Wilkins.

CASSELL & COMPANY announce "Royal Academy Pictures for 1900." The reproductions of the pictures exhibited at the Burlington House are exclusively made for this volume, and are printed on plate paper 6¼ x 8¾ inches. They are published in parts or bound in one volume. They will also publish shortly "Landscape in Water-Colors," by John Mac Whirter.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just ready a volume entitled "The Work of the Holy Spirit," by Dr. Abraham Kuyper, translated with the approval of the author, by the Rev. Henri de Vries. Dr. Kuyper's work is, according to all authorities, the weightiest contribution made to the discussion of the office of the Holy Spirit since the publication of John Owen's masterwork.

ZIMMERMAN, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, has just published a new novel by May Isabel Fisk, entitled "The Repentant Magdalen." The story tells of model and student life in the Latin quarter of Paris. Mrs. Fisk is the wife of Clinton B. Fisk, the assistant city editor of the New York Evening Journal, and is the daughter of Bell Gray-Taylor, the author and club woman.

GEORGE H. BROUGHTON, JR., of 3 East Nineteenth Street, New York, announces the publication in book form of an address by William Morris, "The Ideal Book," delivered before the London Bibliographical Society June 19, 1893, and published in Part III. of the first volume of "Transactions." This reprint will be published in two editions, appropriately bound.

MRS. JANE BALDWIN, Annapolis, Md., will publish for subscribers "The Maryland Calendar of Wills—a ready, accurate, and complete abstract of the wills probated in Maryland from the time of its settlement, 1634, to the American Revolution." The five bound numbers will be sold at $3 singly, or $13.50 for the set, before September 1. The edition will be limited to 300 copies.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. announce a "Book of Bachelors," ten studies of eminent bachelors, by Arthur W. Fox; a "History of the Melanesian Mission," by E. S. Armstrong; "The Daughter of Peter the Great, a history of Russian diplomacy and of the Russian Court under the Empress Elizabeth Petrovna, 1741 to 1762," by R. Nisbet Bain; also, "Romantic Edinburgh," by John Geddie, with 45 illustrations of the old and new parts of this romantic old Scottish town.

THE REV. A. MAGOUN, Morristown, N. J., has written and published a volume entitled "Morristown (N. J.) in the Spanish-American War." The book contains a resume of the causes of the war; an account of the war meetings held in Morristown at the opening and during the war; patriotic sermons delivered by local pastors; war speeches by prominent men; a roster of the Morristown men who served in the army and navy during the war, etc. A number of portraits are also given.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish at once "A History of Political Parties in the United States," by James H. Hopkins, also, "A Book for All Readers," by Ainsworth R. Spofford, both of which have already been fully described by us. They will publish later in the season, under the title of "The Dawn of Feminism," a translation by George Herbert Ely, of R. de Maulde La Claviere's interesting work, "Les Femmes de la Renaissance"; also, "Education and the Philosophical Ideal," by Horatio W. Dresser, author of "Living by the Spirit."

SMALL, MAYNARD & Co., Boston, have just ready a brief life of Robert Browning, by Arthur Waugh, the first volume in their series of The Westminster Biographies, with a portrait reproduced by a photogravure process. They have also just ready "Up in Maine — Stories of Yankee Life Told in Verse," by Holman F. Day, with an introduction by C. E. Littlefield. They will publish in the fall a collection of the weekly letters on literary and philosophical matters, written several years ago by Bliss Carman for a syndicate of newspapers.

CRANE & Co., Topeka, have in preparation the original letters and papers of John Brown and his family, and of the men who were with him in the Harper's Ferry raid, as well as the chief portions of the correspondence relating to that memorable episode. The material will be edited, with such slight connection as will make chronology and continuity, by Col. Richard J. Hinton, author of "John Brown and His Men," and William E. Connelly of Topeka. This is the first of a design on the part of the publishers to utilize especially the material contained in the Kansas Historical Society's collection.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have just published a work entitled "Pioneering on the Congo," written from the missionary point of view, by the Rev. W. Holman Bentley, with numerous illustrations and a map. They have in preparation an interesting biographical sketch of a Hollander who lived in the United States for a number of years and who, in Japan, from 1859 to 1898, was busy in government educational work. The volume is entitled "Verbeck of Japan: a citizen of no country," and is written by William Eliot Griffis, author of "Brave Little Holland," "Japan in History, etc.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY will publish early in September Mrs. Craigie's latest novel, "Robert Orange." As already stated, this is a sequel to the author's "The School for Saints," and the two books together represent five years' work. Disraeli again is a prominent character. They have in preparation a series of volumes dealing with the life and work of prominent living American and English actors and actresses—two volumes—"Ellen Terry," by Clement Scott, and "John Drew," by E. A. Dithmar, will be published before the end of the year. Each volume will contain a portrait and a number of character pictures.

DODD, MEAD & Co. will publish early in the fall a volume of poems by Carolyn Wells who has won for herself a distinct position as a writer of verse and as a humorist. The volume will be illustrated by Oliver Herford who holds the same high rank with his pencil that Miss Wells does with her pen. Paul Leicester Ford's new book to be published by Dodd, Mead & Co. in the fall, will be entitled "Wanted: A Matchmaker," with illustrations drawn by Christy, and decorations by Margaret Armstrong. The sub-title of this book was erroneously given in a previous issue of the WEEKLY as "A Watchmaker."

FRANK GRISCOM & Co., 55 North Tenth Street, Philadelphia, are agents for Isaac Roberts' successful contribution to the "sound money" side of the currency question, published several years under the title of "Wages, Fixed Incomes, and the Free Coinage of Silver." Upwards of 200,000 copies have been sold of this discussion of the dangers of free coinage to all depending upon fixed incomes. The book has been endorsed by Harvey Fiske & Sons, General Horace Porter, Thomas L. James, and many more leading bankers, manufacturers, and business men. The book will have renewed interest during the coming political campaign.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish shortly "The Venetian Republic, Its Rise, Its Growth and Its Fall," by W. Carew Hazlitt. The time embraced is from 421 to the abrupt ending of the Republic in 1797, and the work will be in two octavo volumes. Mr. Hazlitt has traced step by step the metamorphosis of the barren stretch of sand into the political centre which for so long led the civilized world in manufactures, arts and sciences, and which remains perhaps of all cities the most fascinating in its architecture. The work is not to be confused with Mr. Carew's earlier "History of the Venetian Republic," an historical essay published in 1860.

R. H. RUSSELL has in preparation the following five books for young people: "Moon Babies," verses about Chinese children, by G. Orr Clarke, charmingly illustrated in color and in black and white by Helen Hyde; "The Little Boy Book," humorous child verse by Helen Hay, daughter of the Secretary of State, with full-page illustrations, in color, by Frank Verbeck; "In and Out of the Nursery," verse and songs for children and lovers of children, by Eva Eickemeyer Rowland, profusely illustrated from life by a series of remarkable pictures by Rudolf Eickemeyer, Jr.; "Nanny," drawings in color for children, by T. E. Butler; and "Beasts and Birds," a picture book for children, by Frank Verbeck, with verses by Helen Hay.

THE bright career which promised for the young artist, Emery Leverett Williams, was cut short by death in North Dakota some months ago. R. H. Russell, who appreciated his genius and gave him much encouragement in his work among the Indians, will publish this fall, a book of Mr. Williams' drawings of the different Indian tribes, entitled "An Alphabet of Indians," showing the warriors, chiefs, and squaws at their favorite amusements and pursuits. The descriptive text is written by Mrs. Williams in a naive, straightforward manner, that will attract the reader and hold his interest. Mrs. Williams accompanied her husband to the West and lived with him in the very heart of the Indian country—and they were adopted and truly loved by the different tribes they came to know.

LAIRD & LEE will strengthen their juvenile line this season by adding three volumes of more than ordinary merit. The first one is entitled "Baby Goose: His Adventures," a book of original verse and pictures, the text being by Fannie E. Ostrander and the illustrations by R. W. Hirchert. The second is called "A Fairy Night's Dream, or, the Horn of Oberon," by Katharine Elise Chapman, with eleven full-page half-tone illustrations by Gwynne Price. A large royal quarto, printed on fine paper, with frontispiece and cover in four colors. The story is delightfully winsome and pure, with many touches of delicate humor. It is adapted for young and old alike, although it must rank among high grade juveniles. The third book is by Annie G. Brown, and is entitled "Fireside Battles," with thirty-one illustrations by Joseph C. Leyendecker. The cover is in five colors and gold.

A. C. MCCLURG & Co., Chicago, will shortly publish in The Young Kentuckian Series, a volume entitled "Battling for Atlanta," by Byron A. Dunn. The first tale in this series opened with a vivid picture of the discordant conditions that prevailed in Kentucky in 1860-1, and ended with the capture of Fort Donelson. The second volume carried on the story of the young hero from the siege of Corinth, through the battles of Stone River, Perryville, and Chickamauga, to the storming of Lookout and Missionary Ridge. The third volume, referred to above, gives details of the continuous and strenuous struggle, constant marching and fighting by which General Sherman won the important city of Atlanta. The strategic movements of the armies, the constant skirmishing, the desperate battles, and the characteristics of the troops and of the prominent generals are portrayed with absolute fidelity to truth.

ELDER & SHEPARD, 238 Post Street, San Francisco, Cal., have published in simple but very attractive form a series of Impression Leaflets. These are not sermons or tracts, but words of wisdom, of happiness and truth, "short but abundant to fill the mind for life's day." These leaflets (5x7 inches) are interesting enough to frame, small enough to slip in a book and printed in large enough type to be easily read. The text is printed in black with original initials in red and gold, and the whole is enclosed with either a red or gold border. Five numbers are now ready: (1) Extract from the Christian Sermon of Robert Louis Stevenson, "To be honest, to be kind," etc.; (2) "My Symphony," by William Henry Channing; (3) "The Worldly Wisdom of Noureddin Ali," from the "Arabian Nights"; (4) Emily Dickinson's "He ate and drank the precious words," etc.; and (5) "Impressions of an Optimist," by Regina E. Wilson.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. have just added to their Riverside Paper Series: "A Tent of Grace," by Adeline C. Lust; "At the Sign of the Silver Crescent," by Helen Choate Prince; "Rachel Armstrong, or, Love and Theology," by Celia P. Wooley; and "Agatha Page," by Isaac Henderson. They have also just ready the eighth part of "A Hebrew and English Lexicon of the Old Testament," edited by Dr. Francis Brown with the co-operation of Professors S. R. Driver and Charles A. Briggs. They have in preparation a masque on the classic subject of "Orpheus," by Mrs. James T. Fields; "The Half-Hearted," a novel by John Buchan of Brasenose College, Oxford; also a work to be entitled "The Mayflower and Her Log," by Dr. Azel Ames who gives a history of the Speedwell, the model, rig, and outfitting of the Mayflower; her charter, officers, crew, passenger lists, quarters, provisions, lading, etc., and constructs a log of her first voyage to America.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR CO. announce "Expansion Under New-World Conditions," by Josiah Strong, which will discuss conditions that will profoundly change national relations and national policies regarding physical, industrial, and social and political statistics relating to expansion; and "The Trusts; What can we do for them? What can they do for us?" by Hon. William Miller Collier, a careful discussion of the economic and political questions springing out of the great trust problem as seen by the New York State Civil Service Commission. They also announce "Short Story Writing," by Charles Raymond Barrett; "The Real David Harum," compiled by Arthur T. Vance, a volume about the interesting personality of David Hannum, of Homer, N. Y.; "The Salt-Box House," by Jane De Forest-Shelton, who will describe eighteenth century life in a New England town; and Madison C. Peters' "Wit and Wisdom of the Talmud," as well as the fortieth thousand of his successful "Justice to the Jew."

THE NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY will publish shortly "The Linnet," by the late Grant Allen, which was first announced as a posthumous work, but which, as a matter of fact is an old work that will now for the first time be published in this country. They have also nearly ready Fergus Hume's new novel, "The Crimson Cryptogram"; "Woman: The Mystery," a novel, by Henry Herman, author of "The Silver King"; also, "An Introduction to English Politics," by Professor John M. Robertson. They have in preparation "Yankee Girls Abroad," a folio of colored drawings and verses by J. M. Flagg, the well-known illustrator; "Wild Beasts at the Zoo," by A. D. Bartlett; "The Viceroy's Protégé," a new story by Guy Boothby; "Scientific Study of Scenery," by J. S. Marr; and three volumes by H. Baring-Gould on "Devonshire," "Cornwall" and "Dartmoor." They have put up a number of their popular novels in red paper covers under the general title of The Red-Letter Novels. The volumes are well printed and illustrated.

MCCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish at once an "Encyclopædia of Etiquette" with chapters on the etiquette of outdoor sports, of weddings, dinners, calls, introductions, "Etiquette for children," "Bachelor hospitalities," "Chaperonage," "Etiquette for sevvants," "Etiquette for persons who are betrothed," etc. They have in preparation a volume entitled "What We Know of Genesis in the Light of Modern Thought," by the Rev. Edward Worcester, D.D., of Philadelphia; "The Schools and Society," by Professor John Dewey of the University of Chicago; "Abraham Lincoln—His Book," a facsimile of a scrap-book of clippings made by Lincoln for one of his supporters in the contest with Douglas for the Senatorship in 1858, as containing the substance of all he had ever said on the subject of negro equality, which was used to prevent his opponents making capital out of his alleged views on this subject; also, "Donegal Fairy Stories," compiled by Seumas Mac Manus.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish in book form, early in August, Stephen Crane's "Whilomville Stories," with illustrations by Peter Newell. They will publish shortly "From India to the Planet Mars," by Professor Flournoy of the University of Geneva; "The World Riddle" (Das Weltrathsel,) by Professor Haeckel, a terse and graphic summary of the scientific achievements of the nineteenth century in their relation to the riddle of the universe; "St. Peter's Umbrella," a novel of Slavic life in a Hungarian village, by Kalman Mikszath, translated from the Hungarian by B. W. Worwick; also, "A Lady of the Regency," a historical romance of England in James II.'s day, by Mrs. Stepney Rawson. They have in preparation a volume to be entitled "Women of the Bible," with contributions by Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Potter, and Bishop Doane, Dr. Gottheil, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, and others, and full-page plates by Frank V. Du Mond and others. The text is to be richly illuminated and ornamented.

HENRY T. COATES & Co. announce for early publication a new issue of "In the Pale," stories and legends of the Russian Jews, by Henry Iliowizi, which was first published by the Jewish Publication Society of America for its members and subscribers. The new issue, which will be illustrated and enlarged, will bring before the general reading public pictures of a most interesting people amid surroundings that are little known or understood. It was the Jewish Publication Society for whom and at whose suggestion Mr. Zangwill wrote his "Children of the Ghetto," the first issue of which was also to this Society's subscribers. Henry T. Coates & Co. have also in press "The Weird Orient," a series of mystic Eastern tales also by Mr. Iliowizi, who has put into concrete shape some of the legends and traditions in which the Orient is so fruitful and which have not hitherto found their way into print. These were gathered during a lengthy residence in Tetuan, Morocco, that typically Oriental town, where European thought and civilization have as yet made no inroad, but where the Eastern life still dreams on in the unbroken slumber of centuries.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish, probably within a month, the biography of Henry George, written by his son. They will begin publishing in September a new critical edition of Shakespeare, prepared by Professor Mark H. Liddell who until a short time ago was head of the English Department in the University of Texas, and who will probably be remembered as one of the editors of the "New Globe Chaucer." The text will be printed in Elizabethan English and will not be transliterated or modernized. The basis of the text will, in every case, be that of the first folio. The work will be issued, a play to a volume, beginning with "Macbeth." They will publish in the fall Booker T. Washington's autobiography, which will first appear serially in The Outlook; "The Wild Animal Play," by Seton-Thompson, which appeared in the July issue of the Ladies' Home Journal; also, a new library edition, recently revised by the author, and copyrighted, of Kipling's "The Light That Failed," "Under the Deodars," "Soldiers Three," "Plain Tales from the Hills," and "Life's Handicap." These volumes were first published in their original form by the Macmillan Company. They will publish in book form in the fall of 1901, Kipling's new novel, "Kim of the Rishti," the story of a Llama priest and his young disciple, a "little friend of another world."

FOREIGN NOTES.

AN English translation of Louise Michel's (the famous Communist) autobiography, in two volumes, is announced in England.

ADMIRAL FREDERICK A. MAXSE, well known in England as a writer on naval and political subjects, who died a few weeks ago, was supposed to the the original of Beauchamp in George Meredith's novel, "Beauchamp's Career."

IT has been decided to establish at Mayence a permanent Gutenberg Museum as the outcome of the five hundreth anniversary of the birth of printing. In addition to this an International Gutenberg Society is projected. The Grand Ducal Government of Hesse-Darmstadt at Mayence has already done much toward making the establishment of the Gutenberg Museum a certainty.

WELLS GARDNER, DARTON & Co., London, will publish in the fall, a story for boys by Charles Neufeld, author of "A Prisoner of the Khaleefa." The story will be entitled "Under the Rebel's Reign, a story of Egyptian revolt." The adventures do not follow closely Mr. Neufeld's own career, although several of the incidents that befall the hero and others are founded on personal experience.

THE CLARENDON PRESS has just published a work of importance to those who are interested in the art and history of printing, entitled "Notes on a Century of Typography at the University Press, Oxford, 1693-1794," with annotations and appendixes by Horace Hart, printer to the University. Only one hundred and fifty copies have been issued. The book, is a large square quarto, and displays all the various types which, between the above dates, were in use at Oxford, and of which specimen imprints were issued to authors in order that thev might select the type in which their works were to be printed.

SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON & Co. will publish by arrangement with the London Times, "The Times History of the War in South Africa, 1899-1900." This history will be the joint production of several of the special correspondents of The Times in South Africa, and of many eminent specialists, the whole edited by L. S. Amery Fellow of All Souls, Oxford. While, therefore, it will possess all the advantages of containing the reports of eye-witnesses of the events which it narrates, it will be no mere compilation of the hurried and sometimes unavoidably inaccurate judgments of the newspaper correspondent, but will be a consecutive history written from the standpoint of an impartial historian. The work is expected to form five royal octavo volumes each of about 300 pages. It will be fully illustrated with photogravure and other portraits of the prominent military and civil personages connected with the war, also with the latest plans and battle maps, and a specially prepared general map of South Africa.

ARCHIBALD CONSTABLE & Co. announce that they have in preparation the Victoria History of the Counties of England a series of no fewer than 160 volumes of large imperial octavo. An advisory council of the highest authority will preside over its conduct and superintend its preparation. On this council the great Universities will be represented by their Chancellors; history by the Bishops of London and Oxford, and by the Regius Professors of Modern History at Oxford and Cambridge; law by the Corrus Professor of Jurisprudence at Oxford; the British Museums by their respective Directors; the learned societies by their presidents; agriculture by the president of the Agricultural Society; the Geological and Ordnance Surveys by their heads; muniments by the Keeper of the Public Records, and Antiquarian Research by its leading authorities. Two auxiliary committees composed of recognized experts will advise, the one on the architectural history of each county, which will be largely illustrated not merely by views of buildings of historical or artistic interest, but by a series of colored ground plans showing the architectural history of castles, cathedrals, abbeys, and other monastic foundations; the other on the searching of records. The history of each county will be superintended by a committee of representatives of the noble, landed, ecclesiastical, municipal and studious classes in the county, with the Lord Lieutenant as chairman. An executive sub-committee will be nominated by the general committee and drawn from those who are specially interested in or actually working at some definite line of local research, including officials and members of local antiquarian, archæological, or natural history societies. Each county will have its own general editor, with a staff of special sub-editors in charge of the various sections, and the general editor will be the medium of communication between the volunteer county workers and the several sub-editors of sections. H. Arthur Doubleday is the general editor of the whole series.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office should either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

—COURIER JOURNAL.

THE WEB OF LIFE

By
ROBERT HERRICK
Author of
"The Gospel of Freedom," etc.
Cloth, $1.50

"A fine and powerful story. . . . Mr. Herrick succeeds in presenting vividly a new and important phase in American life, the chafing of men of education against the growing restrictions of their individual freedom of action by the rapid increase of 'commercialism' in the professions. . . . It is a strong and good picture of American life, and should be read."—THE NEW YORK SUN.

State Publications

A Provisional List of the Official Publications of the Several States of the United States from their Organization

COMPILED UNDER THE EDITORIAL DIRECTION OF

R. R. BOWKER.

PART I: NEW ENGLAND STATES—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut.

The first part of the bibliography of State Publications is ready. It includes preface giving a sketch of State Bibliography, and 99 pages covering the issues of the New England States from their organization, with blank space for extensions. But 500 copies have been printed, and there are no plates.

The complete work, exceeding 300 pages, will be furnished at $5, and the first part will be sent, only to those subscribing for the whole, on the receipt of subscription and $2 remittance.

The attention of State libraries, of the central public libraries, and of foreign libraries is especially called to this publication, but it is also important to that larger number of libraries which cannot undertake to collect the State publications even of their own State, and yet should be able to inform students and inquirers as to what is to be found in the publications of their own State and of other States. What New York and Massachusetts are doing in forestry, for instance, is of importance in all States and to foreign students of the subject.

Publications of Societies

A Provisional List of the Publications of American Scientific, Literary, and Other Societies from their Organization

COMPILED UNDER THE EDITORIAL DIRECTION OF

R. R. BOWKER.

This volume, of about 200 pages, schedules over 1100 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. It will be found of use in all libraries—in large libraries as a check-list, in small libraries as a bibliographical key to a most important field of special literature.

Price, $2.50 paper; $3 cloth.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED BY

The Annual Literary Index, 1899

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc.; with Author-index Bibliographies, Necrology, and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited by W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of the Library Journal staff.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX complements the "Annual American Catalogue" of books, published each year, by indexing (1) articles in periodicals published during the year of its issue; (2) essays and book-chapters in composite books; (3) authors of periodical articles and essays; (4) special bibliographies; (5) authors deceased; (6) dates of principal events during the year. The two volumes together make a complete record of the literary product of the year.

One volume, cloth, uniform with Poole's Index and the A. L. A. Index, $3 50, net.

"Of great value to all who would keep advised of the topics and writers in the periodical literature of the day."—Universalist Quarterly.

PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL

For 1900 (Twenty-Eighth Year.)

Large 8vo. With Duplex Index.

"The Publishers' Trade List Annual" for 1900 will contain:

The latest CATALOGUES OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume.

These Lists, all bound in one volume, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books.

The patent "DUPLEX INDEX" having given such general satisfaction, we are now applying it to all copies of the "Annual." Volumes supplied with the "DUPLEX INDEX" have the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, which enables instantaneous reference, whether the book is open or shut.

Only those subscribing and forwarding amount now are entitled to subscription rate of $1.50; after publication day, and on orders for which we have to collect after that date, the regular price will be $2.00 net.

Remittances should be made by Check, Money Order on New York, or Registered Letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

☞ Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be despatched by express unpaid. Parties so desiring can have their copies sent by mail, or by prepaid book-rate express for $1.20 per copy extra.

"One of the most time-saving and profitable instrumentalities used by the trade."

Eben Holden

By Irving Bacheller
the noted newspaper man

In demand from the very first announcement, which is not surprising because Eben Holden is a bright, witty story of the "North Country," of northern New York. Full of humor, human interest, clever characterization and lively incident, with powerful descriptions, never overdrawn, never overdone. Without a dull or heavy page, yet never silly nor too frivolous. Its good stories will be quoted far and wide. It has dramatic action, the Bull Run battle chapter exciting every old soldier, yet the love story is tender, interesting, and well sustained.

Indorsed by the leading critics

A book that will have a steady call

A handsomely bound 12mo.
